Invitation to the Conference 20 Years German Unification – From Transition to European Integration

20 years after the fall of the Berlin Wall and the German unification, the East German achievements as well as future prospects are quite controversially evaluated. Therefore, the Halle Institute for Economic Research (IWH), in co-operation with the Martin Luther University Halle-Wittenberg (MLU), and the Collaborative Research Centre 580 “Social Developments in Post-socialistic Societies. Discontinuity, Tradition, Structural Formation” (SFB 580), take the opportunity to enhance the discussion on economic and social changes in post-transition countries at a scientific conference.

The participants are going to critically examine various aspects of development in East Germany as well as in Central and Eastern European Countries. This includes the transition process from centrally planned to free market economies, insights from privatisation as well as changes in the economic, monetary and social areas.

Lessons shall be learned from a retrospective view, and future perspectives shall be pointed out for East Germany as well as Central and Eastern Europe. The two-day conference aims to convene distinguished representatives from the policy arena and the scientific community in order to address past, current, and future challenges in presentations and discussions.

The IWH, the MLU and the SFB 580 cordially invite you to this conference.

The conference languages will be German and English. Simultaneous translation will be provided.
